Lufthansa Cargo Boeing 777F

The passenger airlines of the Lufthansa Group have suspended their flights to and from China (mainland without Hong Kong) until 28 March 2020. Accordingly, the belly capacity of these flights will not be available for air cargo. However, flights to the Hong Kong Special Administrative Region (HKG) will basically continue to operate as scheduled, only single Lufthansa flights will be cancelled.

Lufthansa Cargo plans to maintain connections to and from the Chinese mainland with cargo aircraft as long as possible. The following flights are currently planned:

The special flight schedule is continuously updated according to the latest developments. Freighter flights to the Hong Kong Special Administrative Region (HKG) will continue to operate according to schedule.

The safety of our crews is of paramount importance to us. In order to be able to serve the Chinese market, Lufthansa Cargo has therefore taken extensive precautionary measures. Crew deployment on routes to China is voluntary. In addition, changes in entry regulations, for example, could restrict the feasibility of this at short notice. For this reason, publication of flights to mainland China must always be subject to reservations.

Until further notice, live animals (AVI) are not bookable on routes to and from China (mainland). The express service BXO and the express capacity guarantee will be available again from 2 March 2020. It is currently not possible to book cargo couriers on the routes to and from China and Hong Kong airport.
